

SEASON 1 - EPISODE 15

End the screen without a surprise

A gentle practice for the next pressured moment.

Parent practice workbook

Episode 15

6 pages

You do not need a perfect sentence. This workbook helps you notice the pressure, keep what matters and prepare one phrase you can actually use.

Production resource - adapt to the child, setting, culture, access needs and safety context.

01 - START WITH THE ADULT WEATHER

What was I carrying into the moment?

Pressure can explain why words came out sharply. It does not make the child responsible for the adult's feelings.

THE MOMENT

What happened? Keep it short and observable.

MY PRESSURE

What else was I carrying - time, noise, worry, mess, tiredness or something different?

WHAT I SAID

Write the words without editing them. This is information, not a verdict on you.

A useful pause

The moment was hard. I can still choose what I say next.

02 - MOVE FROM PRESSURE TO USEFUL INFORMATION

Name the moment without defining the child.

Specific words help everyone understand what happened, what must remain and where to begin.

ORIGINAL MOMENT

"That's enough. Off now-you've been on all day."

USEFUL NEXT SENTENCE

"Five minutes left. At the timer, finish this round or save and stop. The device charges in the kitchen."

WHAT A CAMERA COULD RECORD

Write only what could be seen or heard.

WHAT STILL MATTERS

Name the responsibility, safety need, limit, learning goal or practical next step.

Episode principle

Warn. Choose. Follow through.

03 - NOTICE POSSIBLE WEATHER

What might the words have communicated?

You cannot read a child's mind. Use possibilities, then stay open to what the child shows or tells you.

One possible feeling

Another possibility

Weather can change

Illustrations show possible momentary emotions, not fixed traits or diagnoses.

MY GENTLE GUESS

The child may, might or could have heard: A limit can be reasonable and still feel like an ambush.

WHAT I CAN CHECK

What could I notice or ask without demanding an answer?

04 - KEEP WHAT MATTERS

Warm and firm can sit together.

The aim is not instant happiness or cooperation. The aim is clear information, dignity and a usable next action.

Episode example

"Five minutes left. At the timer, finish this round or save and stop. The device charges in the kitchen."

PAUSE

What does the moment require?

DESCRIBE

What specific information can I give?

KEEP

What boundary, responsibility or safety need remains?

NEXT

What is one action or real question to begin?

MY WHOLE NEXT SENTENCE

Put the useful parts together in words that sound like you.

05 - REPAIR AND REPEAT

A hard moment can still have a next chapter.

Repair owns the adult's delivery, restates what matters and makes room to try again. It does not ask the child to comfort the adult.

A simple repair

"I said that sharply. I want to try again. Five minutes left. At the timer, finish this round or save and stop. The device charges in the kitchen."

MY REPAIR WORDS

Own the delivery, keep what matters and offer the next step.
